RACE SUMMARY

A wide open handicap with a nice mix of unexposed lightly raced sorts and experienced handicappers. Very few can be completely ruled out with confidence. Of the lightly raced horses the stable companions Zayin Sentinel and Mobaasher have to hold solid claims, particularly the latter if strong in the market. Sassy has been slowly coming to the boil this season and is well treated now. Like Mayfair, both have headgear back on that they've performed well in previously. Given others are likely to force the pace VICTORIA is a tentative pick. It was a below par effort last time out, but that was a rarity and she's taken to win for the second time this season.

		Well built gelding who showed a lot of improvement last time when leading for a long way at Chepstow behind Victoria on his return. Gets a pull in the weights this time and, with that experience likely to bring him further forward, is likely to give it a good go off the front on his Tapeta debut. (R3 W0 P1) (OR 60)

		Much improved last season winning at Brighton before finishing behind Sassy at Bath. A worry we've not seen him for nearly a year, but remains open to lots of improvement and has to hold claims if ready on his return. (R5 W1 P3) (OR 58)

		Beat five of these at Chepstow last month fairly comfortably. Put in a slightly disappointing run at Brighton on her most recent outing where she tried to make all of the running. There's a few front runners in here, so she can be ridden more patiently and could easily bounce back in an open heat. (R23 W3 P13) (OR 58)

		Made a promising seasonal debut under the rider in the Spring, but was well beaten recently at Southwell where she looked to need the run. A visor is tried again and her form figures wearing that headgear are 2,1,3 the third coming in a Group Three contest. She's very well handicapped nowadays so can't rule out. (R15 W1 P9) (OR 51)

		Dual winner last season and has now dropped below her last winning mark. Wasn't at her best behind a few of these at Chepstow last month and needs to bounce back to last seasons form. The cheekpieces go back on for just the second time and she won when she last wore them, can't rule out. (R18 W3 P7) (OR 51)

		Has a similar profile to Zayin Sentinel in that she put up a much improved performance on her return at Chepstow when behind Victoria and Zayin Sentinel but in front of Sassy and Aloof. More improvement likely with that run under her belt. (R3 W0 P1) (OR 51)

		Hasn't really gone on from her juvenile success nearly two years ago. Was behind four of these at Chepstow recently and, for all this looks a very workable mark, she has a bit to prove. (R12 W1 P7) (OR 51)

Mr Stephen Blackwell

Course winner over further here last season when she was very slowly away. That trait has hampered her since and she was a long way behind five of these at Chepstow when she lost all chance at the start. Well treated if getting away on terms but at the moment it's difficult to be confident she'll break on terms. (R24 W3 P5) (OR 37)
